“ George was a fellow employee of The Montana Power Company. I was a young engineer working in the Substation Design Department in 1978-1980, having recently returned from active duty with the USAF. I met George at the Montana Street facility. I was so impressed by George...his kind and compassionate personality, his technical expertise, and his aim for perfection. He was a person I always looked up to, although I am sure he wouldn't remember me at all.

Thank you for George's obituary where it stated he served in the US Navy during WWII. The US Navy is a terrific branch of the armed forces and I would have liked to know more about George's experiences. Thank you, George, for serving our country!

I will always remember George as he set a great example for the rest of us to follow.
