

Jason James Silver

April 29, 1978 - January 9, 2017

Beloved husband, father, son, and brother Jason James Silver passed away early Monday morning at his home in Butte. Jason made the whole world brighter just by entering a room. His wit, random comments, and creative antics would leave everyone laughing; anyone who knew Jason had a “Jason story.” Above all else he was a loving father, devoted husband, and loyal son who adored spending time with his family.

He was born in Butte, April 29, 1978 to James and Debbie (Campbell) Silver. He attended Butte schools and graduated from Butte High School (1996).

Jason

earned his electrician’s license in 2014, finishing at the top of his class. He most recently worked for Arc Electric.

Jason married Lindsay (Wickman) in Missoula on September 30, 2006. Along with his beloved wife Lindsay, Jason is survived by his sons, Calian and Kade; his mother, Debbie (Harvey) Howe of Butte; father, James (Jim) Silver of Butte; brothers, Jeff Silver of Washington, and Kyle Silver of New York; mother-in-law, Linda Greiner of Missoula; father-in-law, Daniel (Sheila) Wickman of Florida; sisters-in-law, Amy Wickman of Missoula, Meghan (Tom) McMackin of Oregon, and Danielle (Colby) Prosper of Missoula. Also surviving are his many nieces and nephews.

He was a passionate outdoorsman and enjoyed hunting, fishing, camping, boating, four-wheeling, and any outdoor activity; Autumn was his favorite season. He participated in competitive arm wrestling in his youth. Jason was a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, a lifetime member of the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation, and belonged to the Public Lands and Water Association.

Memorials in memory of Jason may be made to the Silver family education fund at gofundme.com/ag_47.

“ There's a couple of memories I have of Jason. I remember going on a four wheeler ride up Pipestone with Jason & Lyndsey. Jason had his back to us and turned around with a mouth full of pine needles and acted like he was eating them.
Then there was the time Jason, Lyndsey, Troy & I were up Bernice shooting guns and having a fire and Troy accidentally fell into the fire.
There was never a dull moment when Jason was around. I'm so sorry for your loss Lyndsey! My thoughts and prayers are with you and your boys.
