Peggy worked at what was to be a 6 week job at Roberts Foods in Dillon for 15 years. She loved to crochet, knit, garage sales, gardening and as her granddaughter Katie Snowden said "Grandma was a great cook. Nothing tasted better than the way Grandma made it. No one could cook like Grandma." She also loved to play cribbage and pinochle.

Her greatest love was her grandchildren and they loved their Granny.

She was very independent. She took care of herself, mowed her own lawn, cooked for herself, shopped for herself and even drove herself where she needed to go. Christmas was Mom's favorite holiday. She loved to collect angels, which she had hundreds of. She has now gotten her own wings and has become our Angel. We love you Mom and you will be greatly missed!

“ Remembering the day we were watching the bucks down at the river and the mosquitoes were swarming. I pulled my red sweatshirt hood tight around my face and Mom pulled her brown jacket over her head to keep them away. we thought we looked like little red riding hood and the big bad wolf. We scared every deer for a mile away with our laughter. T he men did not think it was funny and the ride home was very quiet! We still giggled about it for all these years.
